SAFARI SUPPER 2012!

Spoilt for choice!

What could be better than a summer evening with friends, pre-prandial drinks, a three or four course meal and lots of things to talk about?

There is something; not so different but even better.

Sparkling wine and conversation, then each course served at a different table, in a different setting, with different friends and a get-together at the end with 60 people, many of whom became friends during the summer evening....

(cont'd) It's called the Safari Supper, served up by wonderful hosts in Leeds, Broomfield and Kingswood with the proceeds going towards the upkeep of two of our best local buildings.

This summer the Friends organised their Safari Supper on May 12. Everybody met at the Royers' beautiful barn in Broomfield, then dispersed across the parish to savour the delights at their different tables.

Eventually, all returned to Broomfield and enjoyed their delicious desserts at the Sharps' lovely home, Church Farmhouse. If you weren't there to witness the smiling faces as they gradually left for home, just resolve not to miss the next Safari Supper!
